Dear Princessa,

Congratulations on completing the scavenger hunt. It has come to our attention that due to extenuating academic circumstances and very foreseen factors, the Hotel Zilton and all its amenities will be out of vacancies from December 19th,2024 to December 31st,2024.

Additionally, we will be out of commission entirely on December 3rd,2024 to celebrate the 45th birthday of our most esteemed shareholder (you). Although your forehead kiss stores, will to live, and academic motivation may be depleted, rest assured we have already implemented protocols to ensure your daily doses of vitamin Z and birthday magic are provided.

To ensure you are kept in keyboard “aaa” cat status through the horrors, we have worked with a team of best-in-class, in-house designers to bring you this advent calendar. Each day will contain something new including but not limited to:

- Photos
- Vouchers for redeemable goods and services
- Customized video recordings
- Memes that only hope to encapsulate the silly and goofiness that is you

Additionally, we have included a song in each calendar box which is recommended to be played concurrently with any other media the box may contain. The boxes also contain a daily compliment such that the desired outcome of the smile on your face can be achieved daily. While these are in text format, they may be redeemed for a voice recording upon presentation of a fit pic & meme through a social media platform of your choosing.

We do not apologize for any inconvenience and hope that this birthday gift lives up to the hype of being the best one yet.

Sincerely,

Zibad Rahman – Your Baby Boy
